HOUSE GOLD BOND BILL.

Adopted by the Ways and Means Committee To-Day. WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 .- Chairman

Wilson expects to introduce his report the bond resolution this afternoon, Committee on Rules will this evening fix a time when the vote shall be taken. Mr. Wilson feels confident that the House will pass the bill to-morrow

The House Committee on Ways and House a resolution practically as agreed apon by the sub-committee. The vote was year 8 and nays 5. The resolution is

Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States Congress assembled, that the Secreary of the Treasury be and is hereby uthorized to issue and dispose of at ot less than par in gold coin, bonds of the United States, with the qualities. ivileges and exemptions of bonds is sued under the act approved July 14. entitled an act authorizing the mount not exceeding $5,116,275, bearing erest at a rate not exceeding 3 per cent. per annum, principal and interest payable in gold coin of the present standard of weight and fineness, said bonds to be payable not more than thirty pears after date. Democrats, and Reed and Payne, Republicans—

Against the bill—McMillin, Whiting, Bryan and Wheeler, Democrats. Hopkins, Republican—5.

A minority report will be made by those who voted against the bill. It will probably be written by Mr. Bryan.

A provision against the redemption of National bank notes by the Treasury, which Secretary Carlisle had requested yesterday, and which the sub-Committee had recommended, was passed over by general consent and no action taken upon it, as it was thought best not to cumber the resolution with too many propositions. It may be a subject of future action by the Committee.

The resolution proposed by Mr. Wheeler decaring the enactment of the President's recommendation to be an abandonment of bimetalism, and therefore inexpedient, and Mr. Bryan's resolution for the payment of all Government obligations in the con most convenient, were voted down, as was Mr. Cockran's proposition for more comprehensive authority to the Secretary, but the votes were not recorded. There was no formal de-not recorded. There was no formal debate.

Mr. Cockran said that he would vote to report the resolution, but would reserve the right to offer an amendment in the House. Mr. Reed said that the plan was none of his making nor chossing, but that under the circumstances he would vote for it as a scheme which might furnish some relief for the Treasing, but the was not hopeful that it would.

Mr. Cockran (Dem., N. Y.) offered an amendment providing for issues of 3 percent, gold bonds to be hereafter soid at public competition whenever necessary to protect the gold reserve or maintain the parity between different kinds of money. This was defeated by the negative votes of the Republicans and Messrs. Wilson, Turner and Stevens, Democrats.

Western Republicans are growing extremely resultive over the bond proposition. The Western press and their constituents do not understand the secrecy are the bond contract and are complaints the bond contract and are complaints. attiuents do not understand the secrecy over the bond contract and are complain-ing about it. There is a disposition to break away from ex-Speaker Reed and follow Hopkins, of Illinois, who will lead the Republican opposition to the meas-are.

Thercupon Mr. Hill (Dem., N. Y.) raised the point that they ought to go on the calendar, where they could be got at, and would have the same advantages as the silver bills reported yesterday. There was a spirited colloquy, but the bills were left on the table.

Mr. Aldrich (Rep., R. L.) had suggested during the debate that if the Senate wanted more details as to the bond contracts between the Treasury and the bankers the best thing to do was to cill for the contract. He then introduced a resolution to this effect.

It calls on the President to send to the Senate, if not incompatible with the nubile interest, a copy of the contract between the Treasury and certain backers for the purchase of bonds. Mr. Aldrich sought to have the resolution immediately considered, but Mr. Vest objected and it went over.
